Keep Your Eye on the Small Fry

Bikes Plus Kids Equals Worry

By Bill Howarth

Children and bicycles. like adults and automobiles, just naturally go together. And bikes, just like automobiles, can be dangerous.

The current Campbell Rotary-sponsored "Keep Your Eye on the Small Fry" campaign under the chairmanship of Douglas Fitzgerald, urges the motorist to watch kids on foot, and especially to watch kids on bicycles. A kid on a bicycle is unpredictable, and a car outweighs a bike by hundreds of times.

So far this year there have been no fatalities or injuries among Campbell's young bike-riding population—this excludes adult cyclists.

Chief of Police Robert Locke estimates that there are 1500 bicycles within the Campbell city limits. Of the 5900 children in the Campbell Elementary School District, approximately 50 per cent of them ride their bikes to school, according to Neal Royer, assistant superintendent.

A bike is a lot of fun and good transportation, but on roads swarming with cars it is potentially very dangerous.

Bicycle safety is a responsibility of both parent and child. Parents should acquaint themselves with the proper rules for bicycle safety. They should assume the responsibility for guiding the child's bike safety habits—rather than depending on school officials and local police for the job. The child should be made to realize, with parental help, that when riding on public streets they are subject to the same vehicular rules that bind the automobile.

The school helps the parent and the child recognie and learn to observe the rules for safe bike riding. Films and safety talks are given throughout the term.

The leading violations among bike riders, as seen by Chief Locke, are: riding double on bikes; riding on the wrong side of the street; and riding without lights. Now that the winter months are approaching this last violation assumes greater proportions. Chief Locke notes that Boy Scouts (he puts it in quotes), are often caught riding to meetings without a light on their bicycle.

Police say do not ride your bicycle at night unless you have a headlight that can be seen for 300 feet, and a tail-light reflector that can be seen for 200 feet.

Other don'ts for safe bike riding are: (1) don't ride against the traffic, ride on the right side—with the traffic; (2) Don't try any trick riding on streets where there are cars; (3) Don't cross intersections without looking carefully; (4) Don't try to beat an automobile across an intersection—you may lose; (5) Don't ride on the sidewalk; (6) Don't ride through a red light; (7) Don't ride on school grounds; and (8) Don't fail to keep your bicycle in tip-top mechanical condition — especially brakes and steering.

All bicycle owners should regis- and license their bikes. This enables police to trace and recover stolen bicycles, and keep a check on the number of owners. The bicycle registration fee is $1.00.

'Big Sam' Gets Boot by Board

Sam F. Della Maggiore was ousted as chairman of the Board of Supervisors Monday by a three to one vote of his fellow members. The expulsion came after Della Maggiore refused to apologize for saying that "something smells" about the way the three-man board majority went about proposing a Charter amendment to raise supervisor salaries.

Supervisor Oran Slaght opposed the action. Della Maggiore abstained from voting. Both voted "no" against Supervisor Walter S. Gaspar, who was named to fill out the remainder of Della Maggiore's term until it ends on January 1.

Della Maggiore announced that he will still continue to "snipe", from his supervisor's chair, at the administration of County Executive, Frank H. Thill.

Drive Starts to Build Church Memorial Hall

Campbell, the birthplace of Cub Scouting in the United States, is to have a lasting and useful memorial to the man who was instrumental in founding the organization for young boys in this country, it was announced this week.

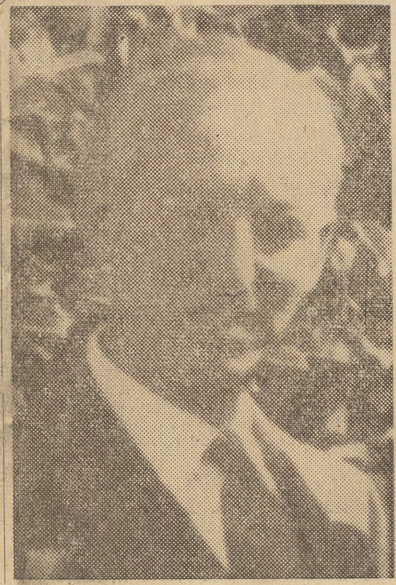
Plans have been announced for the launching of a drive to raise funds for the building of "The Rev. Joseph H. Bennett Memorial Hall" on the grounds of the new Campbell First Congregational Church on W. Campbell Ave.

The Rev. Bennett, who died in April of this year, was pastor of the Congregational Church here for 18 years (the longest pastorate in 63 years of the local church's history). He came to Campbell in 1927 directly from England and it was here that he organized the "Wolf Cub Pack" patterned after a similar English organization. His local group became the forerunner for the present Cub Scout organization that is now nationwide in scope.

It had long been one of Rev. Bennett's dreams to build a hall for the use of all forms of Scouting and other young people's work. The realization of his dream was denied him in his lifetime but in searching for an adequate memorial to commemorate the work of the church's belover pastor it was felt by the majority of people who knew the minister and his activities that a hall which could be used as a meeting place for young people would actually be the fulfillment of Rev. Bennett's dream.

Space Now Available

With the building of the new church and with adequate space now available for such a hall at the new location, the movement began to gain momentum. This week the drive committee and tentative plans were announced for the building which will be located on the southwest corner of the church property were drawn up.



REV. JOSEPH H. BENNETT . . . Dream to Come True

Dobie Jeffers, local merchant, is chairman of the committee and in announcing its members, he stressed the fact that because of the broad aspect of Rev. Bennett's work the memorial not only becomes a Congregational Church project but a community project as well.

Friends Will Help

"It is felt," the chairman explained, "that there are many friends of Rev. Bennett, who will want to make some contribution to this memorial.

"It is hoped," he added, "that [illegible] of the actual construction of the building can be accomplished by volunteer workers."

The present committee as announced includes, Mrs. Dorothy Royce, Miss Hancie Naylor, Ray Williams, Fred Johnson, Laurance Hill, D. L. Beltz, Vincent Diehl, Thayer Lyons, Werner Raab and Myron Fairchild. More members will be added, it was announced and the present committee will welcome anyone wishing to assist in any way.

Student Panel Features First H. S. PTA Meeting

A student panel will feature the meeting when the Campbell High School PTA opens its year's program in the Girls' Gymnasium of the High School at 6:30 p.m. next Wednesday, October 10, with each program of the year to be built around the state PTA theme "Our Investment in America, Strengthening the Communities", the panel will discuss "Strengthening our school community through student participation".

Those taking part in the panel will be Jim Corbus, student body president, chairman, who will speak on student government; Lani Cahill, business manager, who will cover student commissions; Hector Cordova, member of the Student Council, who will speak on school clubs; Carolyn Kolte, girls' sports, and Jim Keech, member of student council, who will speak on boys' sports. Howard Keech will be chairman of the program.

MORELAND VOTES FOR STATE AID

Residents of Moreland Elementary School District this week authorized trustees to increase the tax rate by 60 cents and to request up to two million dollars in State aid.

Vote on the tax increase was 315 to 272, and on the State aid, 420 to 176, according to unofficial returns.

Tax levy will amount to $2.10 assessed valuation if the trustees raise tax to the full maximum now authorized.

The funds will be used for site acquisition and contruction in the district.

TEENAGER MAKES GOOD . . . Beulah, teen-age daughter of Elsie, the Borden cow, came to town last Thursday in her own private car. The car was parked in front of the Towne Pride Market on E. Campbell Ave. and Beulah proved to be a magnet for the youngsters of the town who traipsed through her boudoir in order to pet the good-looking young cow. Pictured is one of the many groups that visited with Beulah during the afternoon.—Campbell Press photo.

Job Still Open

Although no one person this week appeared to hold a favored position in the "guessing contest" as to whom will be appointed to the Campbell City Council, it was generally conceded that the "field" would be narrowed after Monday's Council meeting.

The appointment must be made by October 17 or the city faces a special election.

The vacancy on the Council occurred when Jim Arends, who was first elected in 1952 when the city was incorporated, resigned. Arends recently moved outside the city limits.

Although the four remaining Council members have not committed themselves publicly, it is understood they informally have discussed the matter but as yet have not come up with any definite agreement among themselves.

Added this week to the already long list of "possibles" were, Mrs. Winona Clark, merchant; Dobie Jeffers, merchant; Del Lucot, accountant; Charles Schmidt, 187 Carlyn, Valley View Packing Co.; Judge Martin Walsh, attorney; and Cal Young, electrical contractor.

Sales Tax Comes To Town

With a minimum of gear-grinding the machinery for the collecting of the uniform countywide sales tax in Campbell and the rest of the county went into action this week. Starting Monday local merchants began charging an extra penny on their sales. The county and city will share in the revenue raised from the tax, with the county getting 9 per cent and the city 91.

Fast action on the part of the Campbell City Council made it possible for this city to get under the wire on the countywide plan which allows the State Board of Equalization to do the collecting, thus eliminating a separate collection system that would have been necessary if the city had adopted its own sale tax ordinance.

Actually, however, the city was forced to adopt its own sales tax law anyway because it was not until the last week of the month that an agreement with the county was okayed.

Campbell city officials worked at top speed to get the job properly done.

In order to take advantage of the present State Board of Equalization collection system, the City Council on Wednesday adopted a new ordinance suspending its own sales tax law and adopting the county plan. Necessary agreements with the State were then typed up (City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan pounded her typewriter until the wee hours of the morning).

Last Thursday morning Councilman Richard Morton caught a plane to Sacramento and stayed in the capital until the Board of Equalization had approved the contract so the act could become effective by Monday. All agreements had to be completed by Friday.

Officially at 12:01 a.m. on Monday, the first city-county sales tax in history went into effect and the local merchants began to collect four per cent sales tax instead of the previous three per cent. The merchants will make only one quarterly report to the Board of Equalization which, in turn, will forward to the county and cities their respective shares of the one per cent county sales tax.

All inquiries on the sales tax and its operation should be made to San Jose office of the Board of Equalization, city officials explain. The office is located at 277 N. First St., and the phone is CYpress 3-2414.

Most local merchants agreed that sliding into the four per cent charge from the previous three per cent did not present too difficult a problem. There was a terrific demand, however, for a new sales tax charge chart. But the demand had been anticipated and The Campbell Press was able to furnish all local retailers with a new and up-to-date card showing the tax breakdown (plug). Most merchants had their new cards on their cash registers before noon.

Some merchants reported a few assorted gripes but in the main they said their customers shelled out the extra penny in good grace.

Major Decisions Face City Planners Tonight

Two far-reaching decisions that materially will effect the future appearance of the town as well as the welfare of its residents will face Planning Commissioners at their meeting tonight at 7:30 in the Country Woman's clubhouse.

The Planners tonight are expected (1) to take final action on the controversial official plan-line for Winchester Road (it will be the fourth time that the plan has been before them) and (2) will be asked to approve the building plans for William Lloyd for the remodeling and building of several business buildings in the downtown section on Campbell Ave.

Also on the agenda is the request of Yano T. Circo for approval of plans for his commercial-dwelling building on San Jose-Los Gatos Road.

Circo at a previous meeting was given approval of a zone variance for his property as well as a use permit to construct a dwelling in a commercial zone. The Planners, however, held up approval of complete building plans until better parking facilities were included.

Two More Items

Two other items are scheduled to come before the Planners. Orie Grizzle is asking approval for a marquee on a building located at 379-381 E. Campbell Ave. and the Laurel Variety and Toy Store wants the Planners' okay for a neon sign at their new store in the Campbell Shopping Center.

But it will be the Winchester Road plan-line that should create the most discussion and create the most audience interest.

Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, has promised to have a strip-map on display which will show the lot depths of the various pieces of property along Winchester Road that will be affected by the eventual widening of the street.

What has bothered the Planners is how and where the land needed to widen the street should be taken. The plan-line presented by the city-engineer (and which must be either approved or disapproved) takes the land equally from both sides of the street.

Delays Decision

The Commission has held up its decision on the matter until more information as to the economic and other factors could be furnished. However, the engineer's plan lacked only one vote of getting the blessing of the Planners at the last meeting after almost two hours of prior discussion about suggested alternatives and the cost involved.

Taking the land off both sides is more costly, the engineer's report showed, than going only on one side but it was more feasible it was thought to leave the centerline as is and work from both sides.

The tentative cost was arrived at by showing the number of houses that would have to be moved by the setback. Those houses that would have to be moved would have less than 15-foot setback remaining after the street was widened. The present ordinance calling for a 25-foot setback would be amended in that respect.

William Lloyd Plans

The setback problem also enters the William Lloyd request for approval of his building plans to a certain extent, because now awaiting approval of the City Council (the Planners have okayed it) is the official plan-line for Campbell Ave.

The plan-line allows for a future 10-foot setback on both sides of Campbell Ave. whereas Lloyd's plans call for his new buildings to extend to the present street line. It is possible that a compromise will be worked out in this matter, however, whereas the plans for the building will take into consideration that the structure will have to be set back when and if Campbell Ave. is ever widened.

This will be the second time that Lloyd's plans have been submitted. The first time it was discovered that they had been drawn up for the incorrect fire zone and only partial approval (remodeling) was okayed.

SOME RAIN DROPS

Storm clouds hovered over Campbell on Wednesday and dropped .03 of an inch of rain on the area while they were hovering, the Campbell Water Company reports. Added to the almost cloud-burst of a few weeks ago the season's rainfall now totals .57 inches. The season runs from July 1 through June 30.

Flood Bonds Lose In Two Districts

The $4,941,000 flood control bond in the North Central Zone failed to get a necessary two-thirds majority in the special election Tuesday. The vote was 3105 to 2652. The only approved bond in the three districts was in the North West Zone.

Voters balloting at Campbell High School amounted to a consolidated figure of 191; 138—yes, 53—no.

The North Central Zone includes Campbell, Sunnyvale, Saratoga, and sections of San Jose and Santa Clara. The bond was necessary to provide funds for the improvement of waterways in the County as set forth by the County Flood Control and Water Conservation District.

Voting was light in all three districts. Voters in the North West Zone approved their bond by a slim 158-vote margin. Residents in the East Zone defeated the measure in their district by a heavy majority.

Engineers will go ahead with the project in the North West Zone immediately, according to Donald Currlin, flood control district manager. As for the work in the other two districts, he said, it will have to be done sometime. It looks like a pay-as-you-go method will have to be set before the people for approval.

The Flood Control District fears a recurrence of the floods which were experienced throughout the County last Christmas season.

NEIGHBORS WORK ON RED FEATHER DRIVE . . . Campbell area workers, some 300 strong, will start out Monday morning in a concentrated drive in the annual Red Feather fund campaign. A house to house canvass is planned. Pictured are two next door neighbors on Old Orchard Road, getting warmed up for the drive. Mrs. Earl Handley, residential division chairman, watches Howard E. Lillingston, Campbell chairman, post the traditional Red Feather marker on the door of his house.

Church To Give Missionary Series

Mrs. Earl Menker of Oakland will tell of the experiences of missionaries in Borneo, this coming Sunday at 7 p.m. in the First Methodist Church of Campbell.

The program is planned for the entire family. Nursery care will be provided.

The event is the first of a series of a "church-wide school of missions" to be presented every Sunday this month. Missionary work in Southeast Asia will be explored at each session.

On October 14, a full-color film, "In the Face of Jeopardy" will tell the story of how a Malayan tin miner finds Christianity.

A group of young Filipino students at San Jose State College will tell of life in the Philippines, October 21. On October 28, the Church will give a dramatic presentation entitled "Jungle Prize".

It Doesn't Always Happen Thisaway

Campbell police were wistfully thinking how pleasant their life would be, if all the crimes reported to them would be as easily solved as two were this week in town.

The local force, aided and abetted by the sheriff's office and other law enforcement officers, last Thursday for a brief time were really buzzing around.

It all started when Mrs. Carl Pearman, 90 Amato Ave., reported to the local police that her purse containing $8000 had been stolen. The supposed theft occurred in a local store. She missed it when she returned to her car but no purse was in evidence in the store.

Later when the police were hot on the job Mrs. Pearman found to her embarrassment that the purse and the $8000 were still where she had left them, under the seat of the car.

A similar incident took place in the case of a missing diamond ring. A $700 ring was reported missing from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Carter, 1774 Palo Santo Drive, Campbell.

This week the Carters reported that the missing ring had been recovered.

It was found by the Carters in the clothes hamper in the house.

But the local cops are not becoming complacent about it all. They know they have their work cut out for them in other cases.

Statewide Taxes Top $1 Billion

Robert C. Kirwood, State Controller, this week released figures showing that the property tax bill for fiscal year 1955-56 in California's 58 counties was $1,140,898,752.

As of June 30, 1956, $13,664,391 remained unpaid, making a statewide delinquency of 1.197 percent.

The report indicates a Statewide increase in property taxes in excess of $123,000,000 over the previous fiscal year but a decrease in delinquency from 1.262 percent to 1.197 percent.

According to the report, Santa Clara County was charged with $38,000,347.92 for collection.

Rotarians Hear That Yes on '3' Will Help County

Nearly $44,000,000 of state institutional building in Santa Clara County during the next five years depends upon voter reaction to Proposition '3' on the November 6 ballot, Dr. Dwight Bentel of San Jose State College told members of the Campbell Rotary at their meeting Monday.

The $44,000,000, he explained, is part of an over-all building program to relieve emergency pressures on state institutions resulting from the great influx of residents into California, and the soaring birth rate.

Agnews State Hospital, which Bentel described as a "local institution" because 45 per cent of its commitments and 95 per cent of its "observations" are from this county, will be benefited by $12,000,000 of construction. San Jose State College, which enrolls more of Campbell's college students than any other higher educational institution, will be expanded by $29,000,000 worth of building to provide facilities for a student body that will reach 14,400 within five years, he said.

Additionally, a $1,369,000 state office building will be constructed in the county, and more than $200,000 will be spent for expansion of Lick Observatory.

The total building program, to which a favorable vote on Proposition '3' is the key, Bentel explained, must provide for a 61 per cent increase in state institutional populations by 1965. Proposition '3' calls for the issue of $200,000,000 worth of 25-year general obligation bonds, to be repaid from current revenues, in order to avoid a tax increase that would be necessitated if the building were done entirely from current revenues over the next five years, he said.

Bentel pointed out that both state and county taxpayers associations have studied and endorsed the measure.

C. P. Johnson, 47, Dies Following Heart Attack

Clairborne P. (Johnny) Johnson, 47, who was an active member of Campbell Rotary Club, died last Thursday following a heart attack in a Los Gatos restaurant.

Johnson, Union Oil Co. industrial sales engineer, came to this area in June 1954 from San Luis Obispo, where he was resident manager for the oil company for ten years. He had been with the company since 1933. He made his home at 18628 Bucknell Road, Saratoga.

Besides the Campbell Rotary Club, Johnson was a member of Society of Automotive Engineers, Masonic Lodge 158 of Whitman, Arkansas, and San Luis Obispo Lodge 322, BPOE.

Besides his widow, Claribel, he leaves two sons and a daughter, Robert H. and Mary Lou Johnson of Saratoga, and Jim Johnson of King City. Also surviving are two brothers and a sister, George C. Johnson of Santa Paula, Ralph Johnson of Las Crucas, New Mexico, and Mrs. Lillian Selby of Arkansas.

Services were conducted at 2 p.m. last Tuesday from Campbell Memorial Chapel with The Rev. Herbert Neale, pastor of Campbell First Methodist Church, officiating and Theodore Schenk, Master of Campbell Masonic Charity Lodge, conducting Masonic rites.

Interment followed at Oak Hill Memorial Park.

Retired Area Farmer, Thomas Fowler, Dies

Thomas Dale Fowler, 72, a retired farmer and resident of this area for 14 years, died last Thursday at his home, 518 Rodick Way.

Mr. Fowler lived in San Jose for 12 years before coming to Campbell. He was a native of Arkansas. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Nora Fowler of Campbell; four sons, Sid R. of Campbell; Hubert, of Okla.; Jim and Thomas of Shafter; and four daughters, Mrs. Pauline Gravatt of Campbell; Mrs. L. C. Shaw and Mrs. Zella McKenney of Okla.; and Mrs. Naomi Ary of Shafter; two brothers; 22 grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Saturday in the Campbell Memorial Chapel. Interment was at Oak Hill Memorial Park.

MONEY TO COUNT

Robert C. Kirkwood, State Controller, this week informed Santa Clara County that the county will receive $180,824.08 as its share of the $6,532,505 in highway users taxes apportioned to the counties in September.

FISHING IS GOOD . . . Airman 2/c Bob Stubbe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stubbe, 960 Capri Drive, a recent graduate of Campbell High School and now in the Air Force, poses with a catch of fish from a remote lake in Idaho. Bob is stationed at Fairchild Air Force Base, Washington. Bob and one of his buddies recently got a four-day leave and found the blazed trail to "Ship Island Lake', located at an altitude of about 10,000 feet. According to Bob the above catch (all 12 to 16 inches) was made in one half hour. In a letter home he wrote, "Fantastic, unbelievable, breathtaking." We agree.

Two Stars Shine In Stage Play At Alcazar in S.F.

Two great stars: Judith Anderson and Gladys Cooper, in the New York and London success, "The Chalk Garden" will open a four weeks' engagement at the Alcazar Theatre on Monday evening, October 8. There will be nightly performances, except Sunday, and matinees on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

"The Chalk Garden", written by Enid Bagnold was an October entry last year on Broadway, and was presented in London last April, duplicating there, at the Haymarket Theatre, the success it had enjoyed at the Ethel Barrymore Theatre in New York. Miss Bagnold will be remembered as the author of the best selling novels: "Serena Blandish" and "National Velvet", the former later was adapted into a stage hit and the latter into an outstanding motion picture. This is her first original play to be seen in this country.

Gladys Cooper will be seen in the role of Mrs. St. Maughan which she created last season. Judith Anderson's part of the enigmatic, fascinating Miss Madrigal is a departure from the classical portrayals with which she usually is associated. Featured in the excellent cast of Frederic Worlock, Stanley Bell, Deirdre Owens and Rosemary Murphy. Others are Audrey Ridgwell, Helen Bonstelle and Ruth Chandler. Albert Marre was the director and Cecil Beaton designed the scenery and costumes.

Mail orders for "The Chalk Garden" now are being accepted and tickets went on sale Monday, October 1 at the Alcazar Theatre.

Classes Begin

Local High School Adult Centers Stress Courses for Office Workers

Working members of office and industrial staffs will receive special training in new courses emphasizing business skills, office practice, and personnel problems, at Campbell and Camden Adult Centers, according to Ed Stanley, Director of Adult Education, in the Campbell High School District. Classes began this week at the centers.

Outstanding among new offerings is "Self Improvement on the Job", a job relations and vocational improvement course under Robert Thompson, San Jose State College instructor and also Personnel Director of the City of Campbell. This course is designed to help employee and manager relationships and build improvement in job techniques in industry and office.

The request for renewal of the course Investments for "the man on the street", will include many interesting materials from the workshop on Economic Education as well as the Investment Seminar and Discussion Group. Paul Ecker of Management Consultents, Inc. will direct the course.

Four classes in typing for beginning, intermediate, and advanced operators will be held under the direction of Jon Wright and Ken Cline.

The Business Machines Clinic—a practical review of skill and practice in modren office machines will continue under Ken Cline, while Shorthand for office or civil service examination will be offered with Miss Joyce Holte as instructor.

Another streamlining in office practices review and training is the "Business Skills Workshop" under instructor Stanley Sondeno. Sunnyvale is Site Of New GM Plant

Plans for the new 217-acre General Motors assembly plant at Sunnyvale are nearing completion, according to officials of the company. Steps in preparing the site for initial construction activities are expected to begin early next year.

Thesite is located at Bayshore Highway and Lawrence Station Road.

John F. Gordon, vice president of General Motors in charge of body and assembly group activities, said this week that the company has incorporated many new improvements that will insure the Sunnyvale assembly plant being the most modern in the country.

The plant will have slightly over a million and a quarter square feet of floor space devoted to passenger car assembly and allied operations, Gordon said.

The plant will be in operation in time for production of 1959 Buick, Oldsmobile and Pontiac models.

It will be GM's eighth assembly plant of its kind in the nation—the second in California.

National Crime Rate Rises in '56

Major crimes in the nation rose 14.4 per cent during the first six months of 1956 as compared with a similar period last year, it was announced last week by the Department of Justice.

An estimated 1,291,120 major crimes occurred from January to June, according to FBI Director, J. Edgar Hoover. This is 162,770 more crimes than for a similar period last year.

If the present trend continues for the remainder of the year, 1956 will be the first year in which the crime total will reach the two-and-one-half-million mark.

The largest increase was noted in auto theft, which spiraled 22.3 per cent. There was a major crime committed every 12.2 seconds during the first six months of the year.

Every 4.1 minutes during the period there was a crime of murder, manslaughter, rape or assault to kill, according to a United States Department of Justice report.

There was one major crime committed for every 129 persons in the general population during the January to June period. The figure is based on the June 1, 1956 estimate which set the countrys population at 166,943,000.

Founder of Newspaper Week Tells Why It Was Established in the USA

By
John B. Long, General Manager, California Newspaper Publishers Association and Founder of National Newspaper Week

Why National Newspaper Week? The answer to this question which is raised every year goes back to the depths of the notorious depression of the early 30's in the United States.

During those harrowing days the free press of America was made the whipping boy of prominent men and women in high government positions.

We were dubbed "capitalistic press" with a sneering snarl of degrading connotation. These same important officials kept telling the people the nation's editors were owned and controlled by the big advertisers and editorial policies of American newspapers were "dictated from the counting room". Public confidence and acceptance of our hometown newspapers, like the economy of the country, hit its lowest ebb.

Comes The NRA

Suddenly out of the nowhere into the here the Blue Eagle spread its wings as the symbol of the National Recovery Act, which was quickly adopted as the cure-all of all depressions. This plan appeared suddenly, but gave ample evidence of having been worked upon over a long period of time in advance because the program was worked out to the smallest detail, including a federal government licensing provision for every business in the country down to the smallest corner store or weekly newspaper in the great plains, rugged mountain areas, seashores, or desert.

Any one could file a charge of a violation of ethics of the Blue Eagle Code and the business institution--large or tiny--thus charged would have to apper personally in Washington, D. C., to defend itself out of its meager resources against the giant prosecution machinery of the greatest government in the history of the world. As in all cases predicated upon the greatest good for the greatest number, our newspapers went along until suddenly the officers and managers of organized newspaper associations throughout the country came to the sudden realization that the Blue Eagle was a licensing scheme by which to control the press of the country, and the war was on!

Ultimately the Blue Eagle and its codes were declared unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court, but in the meantime several state newspaper associations in California, Pennsylvania, and Oklahoma, had started illuminating campaigns in their separate jurisdictions to reconvince the people that their faith in their hometown newspaper as guardian of their freedom, fighters for their right to know, and their key to better living, were still worthy of their respect and acceptance. These were so successful that seventeen years ago I made the motion at an annual convention of Newspaper Association Managers, Inc., which established as their responsibility an annual observance of National Newspaper Week during the first week of October.

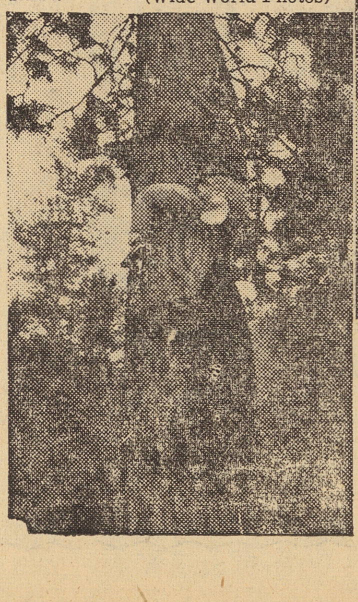
The success of this endeavor is best exemplified by the fact that 56 million people spend $3,189,000 daily in nickels and dimes for their daily newspapers, and 18 million grass roots Americans subscribe annually to their hometown weeklies. This is the highest net paid circulation of American newspapers in history, and all in spite of new competitive media in the field of mass communication.

That is the "Why' of National Newspaper Week.

Seeing Is Believing

WATCH THE BIRDIE—Assuming an air of nonchalance, Julius, a chimpanzee from the Detroit zoo, gets mugged by Tarzan, a brother chimp. With the help of a Detroit News' photographer, Thel Burget, the chimps have become quite adept with the camera act.

SCOOP! BEAR TREES MAN—Tourists driving near Cliffdell, Wash., take a quick second-look when they see this scene. It looks like the real thing, but actually it's the skin of a long-dead bear, nipping at a straw-filled trousers and shirt. —(Wide World Photos)



MIDGET MALES DOUBLE-UP FOR BIG MAIL—Since the "Big-Top" of Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey circus recently folded, these two midgets are probably looking for work. Could be that Prince Paul and Lauro Marales are making sure their employment applications get in the mail box.

San Jose State lost to Washington State 18 to 33 Stanford lost to Michigan State 7 to 21 and the 49'ers lost to the New York Giants 21 to 37.

Brooklyn and New York in World Series

The Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Yankees get in their usual tangle in the World Series. I may have been wrong on Milwaukee, but I'm sure the Yanks will take the series four games to three. Speaking of predictions I take the L. A. Rams in the Western Conference and the N. Y. Giants in the Eastern Conference.

Jayvees, Bees Split In Season's Openers

The Campbell Junior Varsity and the 30's split in the win-loss column at their season openers last week. The 30's defeated the Los Altos Bees by a score of 27-0 while the JV's were shellacked by the Los Altos Varsity 39-0.

Ron Corbus was the workhorse for the 30's in their victory. On the ground the 30's played an excellent game but their aerial attack showed need of polishing. Coach Hal Raley was very pleased with the way his line worked out.

Bucs Open League Against Santa Clara

Game Takes Place In Mission City

The Red and Blue of Campbell High will be out for revenge Friday at 8 p.m. when the Bucs meet the Santa Clara Panthers at Santa Clara's Townsend Field to open the Santa Clara Valley Athletic League.

The "Black Cats" of Santa Clara thumped the Buc's last year by a score of 26-14 for the Bucs only major upset of the year. Coach Rip Miller's 1956 varsity is made up of primarily the same team which blanked the Bucs last year with fullback Bob Lister returning to try and continue his touchdown ways.

Coach Muir's battling Bucs were sent into a tie for third place by last years defeat at the hands of the Panthers. Tension is high among the Bucs ranks. The Panthers will be highly favored to take this years opener on the strength of their returning lettermen and Campbell's inexperienced backfield. Last weeks crushing victory by the Bucs is a slight indication of what is to come.

Coach Jim Muir said after last weeks victory that he had his teams weaknesses diagnosed and would be working on them all this week so that they would be ready for the league opener.

With support from the fans the Red and Blue of Campbell High may and hopefully will turn the tide to provide the fans with an upset of their own.

Taxes Go up More Than Half During Five Year Period

State and local property tax collections have increased by more than half in the five years from 1950-51 to 1955-56. This was disclosed in a study released by the California State Chamber of Commerce. In reporting upon it, Lloyd W. Dinkelspiel, Chairman of the Chamber's Statewide Tax Committee, stated that major taxes and licenses collected by the State and all property taxes received by local government increased from $1,961,775,000 in 1950-51 to $2,990,143,000 in 1955-56.

State tax collections totalled $1,703,143,000 in 1955-56. This was $552,378,000 greater than 1950-51. A half dozen taxes and licenses contributed $502,694,000 of this increase; these were: Sales and use tax $163,128,000; motor vehicle fees $60,203,000; bank and corporation taxes $58,660,000; personal income tax $52,332,000; and automobile "in lieu" tax $43,992,000.

Of the 1955-56 $2,990,143,000 total, the State tax collections constituted 57 per cent and property taxes constituted 43 per cent.

Campbell Blanks Lincoln High

By Richard Ferguson

The surprising Campbell Buccaneers blanked the Lincoln Lions 14-0 Saturday night at Townsend field. The fast and furious game was sprinkled with superb passing by both teams. Jim Corbus sparked the Campbell passing attack with better than average accuracy.

The first quarter started off at a fast pace when Campbell went 60 yards on a first down pass play only to be called back by an off-side penalty. With 15 yards to go Jim Corbus pitched out to Chacon only to have his pass intercepted by Lincoln on Campbell's 47 yard line.

Lincoln's Rich Morgan gained 10 yards only to be stopped cold on the next four plays by the experienced Campbell line. The Buc's Bud Scribner and Gene Bowen pushed the scrimmage line back 9 yards only to have Lincoln's O'Brien intercept a long pass on the 50 yard line.

Lincoln Stopped

Rich Morgan uncorked a beautiful 30 yard pass to Pat Reek on the Buc's 35 yard line. Morgan was then thrown for a 10 yard loss which stopped the touchdown threat before it got tarted.

A 15 yard penalty set the Lions back enough to necessitate a fourth down kick. A clipping penalty prevented the Buc's from gaining the necessary 10 yards so the Lions again had possession of the pigskin. Rich Morgan again sparked the Lions with a 20 yard pass. Penalties prevented any further advance by Lincoln.

The Lincoln defense tightened up considerably and allowed Campbell only 5 yards in the next four plays. Mike Profit placed a tremendous kick on the Lincoln 2 foot line. The hard-hitting Campbell veterans held the Lincoln Lions to 3 yards and forced the Lions to kick from behind the goal line. The kick was a side winder which got only as far as the Lincoln 17 yard line.

The Buc's opportunity to score was not overlooked and a series of line plunges by fullback Bud Scribner added six points to the Campbell scoreboard. Scribner then added the extra point, making the score 7-0.

Mike Profit again placed a kick into the Lincoln end zone which did not help the Lions in the least. Lincoln proceded to bulldoze and pass their way to the 50 yard line before their touchdown drive was halted. With 45 seconds left in the first half Jim Corbus passed 30 yards to end Frank Koontz. Bud Scribner again proved his skill as he plunged over the Lincoln goal line from the six yard line. Dave Alvarez converted to make the score 14-0 for Campbell.

Into the End Zone

Campbell's powerful punter Profit again kicked the pigskin into the Lincoln end zone to end the first half.

The first quarter was dominated primarily by the Lions but the Bucs came back strong in the second quarter to display some fine passing and ground gaining. First downs were few and far between for both clubs during the first half.

In the second half the Lincoln Lions came back strong but three penalties early in the third quarter cooled them off in a hurry. Campbell took possession of the ball on their own 40-yard line and proceeded to Lincoln's 20 before they were stopped. On the fourth down and 12 to go Jim Corbus executed one of the brilliant plays of the game.

Jim faked a short pass to ....the right end and then ran right, only to jump high and pass to the left end in the end zone. Fate again ruled supreme on a touchdown pass as the play was called back because of a penalty.

On the replay Corbus passed to Koontz who caught the pass out of bounds and ruled incomplete. Lincoln was forced to kick in the next four plays and the quarter ended before the Bucs could complete their four downs.

Campbell received the opening fourth quarter punt but failed to gain a first down despite brilliant running by Bud Scribner.

Lincoln's second play was broken up by Scribner who snared a Lincoln pass on Campbell's 47 yard line. Ken Buran proved that substitutes help in winning games when he weaved through the line for 20 yards.

Through the Air

With their hopes of winning drawing to a close Lincoln tried to score on the airways only to be stopped by Ray Salvano who pulled down a Lincoln pass. Two fumbles by Campbell lifted the Lions hopes slightly but a good pass defense prevented them from scoring before the game ended. Although inexperienced the Campbell backfield played a superb game on offense and on defense with Jim Corbus,. Bud Scribner, Cal Vargas, and Frank Koontz helping the cause tremendously.

Coach Muir said after the thrilling opener that he likes to see his team win but he felt that his team didn't play the game that they could have played. He also stated that he hopes to improve the team for the conference opener this weekend.

Scoring:

Campbell	0	14	0	0	14
Lincoln	0	0	0	0	0

Officials Rate Either-Sex Coast Deer-Kill Low

Both hunting pressure and kill were comparatively low in California coastal counties in which either-sex deer hunting was permitted during the last three days of the coastal season, the Department of Fish and Game announced.

Although tag returns will not be complete for some time, a combination of those already returned and information compiled at checking stations reveal about 2,500 antlerless deer accounted by September 19.

Hunting pressure ranged all the way from about 25 per cent of a normal opening weekend to heavier than usual in Orange County, where much private land previously closed was opened to hunting.

In general Department field men found hunting pressure slightly over that for a normal closing weekend. Observance of game laws was generally good, although in some areas there were more tag violations than usual.

Top producers during the three days, on the basis of early returns were Los Angeles, Ventura, Monterey, San Louis Obispo and Napa Counties.

JOE SANTORA

ELECT JOE SANTORA FOURTH DISTRICT SUPERVISOR NOVEMBER 6

JOE SAYS: "Thanks a million to all the people of Santa Clara County; and most of all, the people who live in District 4, for the support you gave me with your vote in 1954. Yes: 16,000 votes, almost a winner. Now again I ask you for your vote this Nov. 6, and please tell your neighbors and friends, for good honest government is what the people of Santa Clara County want.

JOE SANTORA will give you good government. For my record of 23 years a successful business man and for nearly five years as a San Jose City Councilman speaks for itself—and elected to the office two terms in succession with the highest number of votes—also a record. Now I ask YOU to elect me as your Supervisor in the 4th District on Nov. 6th and make it a victory for YOU, and your candidate, 'JOE SANTORA'."

JOE SAYS, "Thanks a lot, everybody."

Your Newspaper is a public service. It serves your community with news, advertising, comment and entertainment. It promotes civic and humanitarian projects. If this newspaper were published in another country, it would be an entirely different medium. Even in a comparatively small publication such as The Campbell Press, there is complete freedom of thought and objective reporting. The only government bureau that harasses us is Bureau of Internal Revenue—and that's nearly universal!

Without the free press there can be neither freedom nor free government. Be thankful that your newspaper can freely report the news.

President Reports

San Jose State College Last Year Taught 16, 502 During All Sessions

San Jose College gave instruction to 16,502 students during the 1955-56 school year, an increase of 1,821 over the previous year, according to the annual report of President John T. Wahlquist.

Last year 11,339 students were enrolled for all or part of the regular sessions, an additional 2,950 took extension courses and 4,990 attended the 1955 Summer Session. After duplicate enrollments were eliminated, it was determined that 16,502 different individuals participated in some part of the college instructional program.

Upper Division Increases

Enrollment figures show that there is a gradual increase in the number of upper division and graduate students, who now account for half of the entire enrollment, an increase of 4 per cent over the previous year. The proportion of men and women students remain about the same, 8,307 and 8,194 women. Veteran enrollment continued to rise last year, from 2,247 veterans in 1954-55 to 2,832 in 1855-56.

Students attending the college for the first time last year represented every county in California but four. Santa Clara County supplied the greatest number, 1,866, followed by Alameda with 435, San Mateo with 321, Los Angeles with 268, Monterey with 115, Contra Costa with 110 and Santa Cruz with 107. In addition, students came from many other states and from foreign countries. New transfer students came from most of the California colleges and universities and from 61 different California junior colleges.

During the 1955-56 academic year, San Jose State College granted 1,576 bachelor's degrees, as compared with 1,341 in the preceding year. The largest increase was in the number of master's degrees granted, 201 in 1955-56 as compared with only 78 in the previous year. Academic degrees totalled 1,777 for 1955-56, or 358 more than were issued in the preceding year. The total number of teaching credentials issued was 767, as compared with 639 for 1954-55.

Faculty Totals 653

Duriing the regular 1955-56 academic sessions, there were 440 full-time faculty positions, with 213 teaching in the 1955 Summer Session, making a total of 653 teaching positions for the year.

The 1955-56 school year saw the college building program make substantial progress. An addition to the Men's Gymnasium was completed. As the year ended, a large addition to the college library was nearing completion and work was well advanced on an addition to the Science Building. Two new structures, a three-story classroom building and an administration building, had been started.

Plans have been completed for a million-dollar cafeteria, funds for which have already been appropriated. In the planning stage are new buildings for industrial arts, art and health, a new Student Union, a faculty office building and the remodeling of the present Administration Building. A request has been made for funds to purchase 6½ additional blocks to provide an adequate campus for college expansion.

FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

Under the terms of the strengthened financial security law, if a motor vehicle is involved in an accident resulting in personal injury to any one or damage to the property of any one person in excess of $100, and the owner or driver is bility, the registration certificate and the license plates will be suspended and the car must be put into storage at the owners expense, warns the California State Automobile Association.

CLEAN AIR

Failure to have the air cleaner on your car serviced regularly will result in hard starting and poor gas mileage, says the California State Automobile Association. Approximately 10,000 gallons of air are sucked into the engine for every one gallon of gasoline. The air cleaner's job is to prevent dust and other abrasive material from being drawn into the engine.

It costs money to clean up litter along California's roadsides. Help end this needless waste of tax dollars by carrying a litter bag in your car—and using it.

STUCK HORN

When a horn on an automobile gets "stuck" and no amount of pushing at the horn button will stop it from blowing, it's embarrassing and also a little noisy. Very few motorists know which wire to disconnect in order to stop a horn from blowing. The California State Automobile Association suggests you ask your garage service man what to do when your car develops "hornitis". You may never have to apply your knowledge of the matter, but if you do, you'll be glad that you know what to do.

LET 'EM KNOW

Be your own publicity agent when you drive. However good your intentions may be in traffic, they're worthless unless you let the other motorists know about them, says the California State Automobile Association. Always signal correctly and well in advance when you plan to turn, change lanes, or stop suddenly.

Ukiah is an Indian name for Deep Valley, reports the California State Automobile Association.

The Salton Sea is 244 feet below sea level at its surface, reports the California State Automobile Association.

Why the Oil Conservation Act will

KEEP GAS PRICES DOWN

● Why does Oil Conservation mean gasoline price protection for motorists?

● Why will Proposition 4, the Oil Conservation Act, help keep gas prices down?

—Because conservation of California's irreplaceable oil resources means stopping waste in the production of oil. It means getting every last drop of oil from the ground that it is possible to get by modern, scientific recovery methods.

—Because Proposition 4—by providing urgently needed Oil Conservation legislation—will double the production of oil from California fields.

—Because a plentiful supply of low-cost California oil is the best possible guarantee against drastic increases in the service-station price of gas.

IF YOU DRIVE A CAR, you are vitally concerned over the price of gasoline.

There are three pressures operating today in the direction of increased prices of gasoline. They are:

1. Greater expenditures by both the Federal and State governments for improved highways and freeways—financed by higher taxes on every gallon of gas you buy.

2. The Suez Canal crisis and Middle East unrest—foreshadowing demands on American oil to fill Western European needs.

3. The constantly increasing horsepower of automobile motors—requiring gasoline with higher and higher octane content.

The great, pocket-book importance of Proposition 4 to motorists is that it will provide an important counter-pressure to these rising price trends—by greatly increasing the supply of low-cost California crude oil.

TODAY, CALIFORNIA IS AN "OIL DEFICIT" STATE—we use more oil and gasoline than we produce.

Yet, today, only half the oil that can be recovered is being recovered—the other half remains in the ground, tragically wasted, for want of proper Oil Conservation procedures.

Proposition 4 provides the legal framework to make it possible to recover that presently wasted half of our producible oil resources. It will replace scarcity with plenty—adding a whopping 4 billion barrels to our known, recoverable oil reserves.

Best of all, the additional oil that will be produced from existing fields will be relatively inexpensive oil—because huge discovery, drilling and investment costs are not needed to produce it.

By providing a new, important source of low-cost California crude oil, Proposition 4 will help keep gasoline prices down!

● THESE COMPANIES SERVE THE MOTORIST: The major, integrated oil companies (with only one exception)—the companies that not only produce oil, but refine it and distribute it to the public—support Proposition 4. Their interest is in volume production and distribution of gasoline at reasonable prices.

Have you read "The Case of California's Disappearing Oil"? Ask for it at your service station or news stand.

● THESE COMPANIES DO NOT SERVE THE MOTORIST: On the other hand, the interest of the large-scale, multi-million dollar "independents" who are opposed to Proposition 4 is in higher prices. They are simply producers of crude oil and do not serve the motoring public. They are currently agitating for higher prices for crude oil.

● THE MOTORIST'S INTEREST, THE PUBLIC INTEREST, YOUR INTEREST — CLEARLY IS IN BOOSTING SUPPLIES OF LOW-COST CALIFORNIA OIL, AND KEEPING GASOLINE PRICES DOWN, BY ENACTMENT OF PROPOSITION 4.

Vote YES on Proposition 4

"If ever a measure for public decision by ballot could be called a motorists' measure, it is Proposition 4." --The Kingsburg Recorder.

Japan will be the home for the next two years of newly wed Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crumbliss who were married on August 18 at Grace Baptist Church in San Jose with the Rev. Henry J. Croes officiating at the double ring ceremony.

When she approached the altar on the arm of her father, the bride was attired in a floor length gown of nylon tulle over satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice, long sleeves of tulle, and an illusion neckline. Orange blossoms were scattered over the very bouffant skirt and circled the neckline. A coronet of orange blossoms held the twenty-foot veil of net, edged with Chantilly lace. A spray of white carnations and orchids completed the bridal attire.

Her two attendants wore identical ballerina length gowns, fashioned with a fitted, strapless bodice and very bouffant skirts. Miss Carol Young, maid of honor, was in white and carried pink carnations, while the bridesmaid, Miss Phyllis Estes, wore light blue and also carried pink carnations.

Little Jean Mobley, age 4, was the flower girl, attired in a floor length dress of pink nylon with a garland of pink baby roses in her hair. She carried a basket of pink carnations. Little Billy Finch, age 3, carried the ring to the altar.

Ralph R. Crumbliss assisted his brother as best man, and ushers were Bill Charlson and Earl Vaughn.

At the reception which followed in the church social hall, the bride's mother received the more than 275 guests in a navy and white silk suit with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

When the couple left for their honeymoon at Tahoe, Lebanon, Oregon and Los Angeles, the new Mrs. Crumbliss wore a black and pink sheath with pink accessories and an orchid corsage.

Having been assigned to a U. S. Air Force base in Japan, the groom left for his assignment, shortly after returning from their wedding trip, and his bride will leave to join him next week. They will make their home at Missawa, Japan, a short distance from Tokyo. They expect to live in Japan for two years.

Mrs. Crumbliss is the former Miss Margaret Joy Deach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Deach of 705 El Patio Ave., Campbell. She graduated from Campbell Union High School and attended San Jose Junior College. She was a member of Campbell Rainbow Girls, and during her high school days, sang with the school's a cappella choir.

Earl is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Crumbliss of Missouri. He graduated from San Jose High School. He has three brothers: Fred of Terra Bella, Ralph of San Jose and Richard of Omaha. His two sisters are Mrs. Margaret Lamb of Oregon and Mrs. Mildred Anderson of Portland, Oregon.

Kenneth Stone Claims Bride

A honeymoon at Lake Tahoe followed the quiet wedding ceremony uniting Miss Betty Baldridge and Kenneth Stone, Jr. on September 8. The couple was married in the First Methodist Church in Carson City, Nevada with the Rev. Reinhart officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Betty chose a beige knit suit for the ceremony and with it she wore a matching hat and dark brown accessories. An orchid corsage was pinned at her shoulder.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Krug of Campbell. She graduated from Campbell Union High School and is now attending Sullivan School of Beauty in San Jose. She has been a member of Campbell Theta Rho and Rainbow Girls of Santa Cruz and she is a member of "Campbell Footlighters". Betty has two brothers, Jerry and Kenneth Krug.

Kenneth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stone, Sr. of Christopher Ave. in Campbell. He also is a Campbell High School graduate, and is presently a Santa Clara County employee. He has three brothers, Harvey, Robert and Ronald Stone.

Look Before You Jump

The much maligned, much-discussed and much-misunderstood uniform one per cent countywide sales tax went into effect this week. It is now the law in all cities of the county (except Militas) and in all county territory.

No one locally, (and that includes the customer, merchant, or Council members) are particularly happy that the tax is now on the books. It can safely be said without fear of contradiction that there was no dancing in the street when it was adopted.

In order to correct any misunderstanding that may have arisen about "the why" of the sales tax, it should be noted for the record that Campbell City Councilmen have opposed such a tax from the very start. They were pushed into it, one might say.

When the principle of the uniform tax on a countywide basis was just a gleam in the eyes of various supervisors and city officials at a statewide meeting the local Council had the distinction of being almost the sole opposition to it.

Subsequently the legislature passed the necessary enabling legislation to set up the uniform tax in the counties. Under the pecularities of the state law, it was necessary for the Board of Supervisors in each county to pass an ordinance, as well as each city, before the uniform tax could be adopted and allow the State Board of Equalization do the collecting.

The state law also included a couple of "sneakers": Unless each city put a sales tax measure on its books the same time as the county did, ALL the money collected within each city's limits would go into the county coffers. This made it almost mandatory then that each city have a sales tax ordinance to coincide with the county's.

Nothing had been written into the state law as to what the county should charge if anything for this so-called service of putting across a uniform sales tax plan.

Various boards of supervisors had varied ideas on the subject and throughout the state the "cut" for the county ranges from nothing to 50 per cent. It was necessary, of course, for the cities and the county in each case to first agree on the percentage.

After months of haggling the agreement in Santa County was set for 9 per cent to go to the county with the county to pay for the collection of the tax which will be taken care of by the State at an estimated cost of 1.7 per cent.

Thus it is not fair that the local City Council should be the "whipping boy" for those who are opposed to the principle of sales tax in general. Campbell was forced to go along or lose. There was no choice.

There will be and have been plenty of other matters on which the Council can be raked over the coals. You can count on that. But the Council shouldn't be jumped on in this case. So just look before you leap.

This Is Newspaper Week

"Newspapers are sentinels standing against forces which would destroy our freedoms.''

This statement was made this week by Seymour C. Sterling, president of the California Newspaper Publishers Association, and publisher of the Sanger Herald, in emphasizing the important role newspapers play in the American way of life and calling attention of California citizens to the 17th annual observance of National Newspaper Week, October 1 to 8.

Commenting on this year's theme—"Your Newspaper—Freedom's Key To Better Living," Sterling said:

"The newspaper opens up new avenues of information, education and entertainment. As the oldest and most reliable form of mass communication, the newspapers of America today provide as they have since the eighteenth century the information that serves as the key to unlock the door to better living."

He paid special tribute to the more than 62,000 newspaperboys who deliver California newspapers. National Newspaperboy Day will be especially observed on Saturday, October 6. Said the CNPA President, "Just as the importance of newspapers has grown as the guardian of our liberties, so has grown the importance of the individual responsibilities of our newspaperboys who deliver 'freedom keys' to homes and offices in California and every state across the nation."

Sterling added that Newspaper Week continues as an annual effort to emphasize that a free press will always be essential to a free America and that he believes "the observance this year will impress upon all people that the newspaper is the key which not only opens the way to freedom but guards it as well."

OUT on the LIMB

with

George Vierhus

This is National Newspaper Week, so, if you will pardon us, we will digress a wee bit from the usual run of the mill stuff with which this column is filled and mention something about the newspaper profession, its people and its activities.

Someone aptly has termed the trade one of continuous organized confusion. That is generaly the reaction people get who view the bustling activity aroud a newspaper office. But somehow the paper always comes out, often to the amazement of the onlooker and, we must confess, sometimes even this editor is surprised.

Everyone in the profession gets frustrated at times, disgusted at other periods and confused in many instances. Most of us swear that our heads should be examined for ever getting mixed up in it in the first place. But almost in every case when there has been a chance to leave it to go into something in which the grass appears a little greener, we have turned it down.

There is a reason for this but it is no use trying to explain it for most of us don't understand it altogether ourselves..

—o—

It is apropos while we are on the subject of newspapers to mention that The Press has been recognized in recent months by contemporaries in the immediate field. What we mean is that several of the little gems that appeared on our editorial page have found their way into the columns of other papers in the county.

Some of you probably recall that we carried on a running word battle some time ago with Sam Hanson, San Jose News columnist. Sam in "Off the Beat had referred to Campbell as a "dirty little town" and we took exception to such a snide remark.

Sam, in turn, picked up our remarks and quoted us in his column. We beamed when that happened because, frankly, just between us, our editorial even sounded better when it was warmed over than when we first had published it.

—o—

During our verbal exchan overlooked a point that we think we ought to bring up at this time. (We have been looking for an excuse for some time). We said in our original blast we resented being called dirty by a "smug outsider" in referring to Sam. Hanson responded that he resented being called "smug". He thought that "snobbish" would have been more appropriate.

At the time we did a little research on the definitions of the two words but we have neglected to report our findings until now. (Just between us, Sam we think, should have quit when he was ahead. About the words, we mean.)

Here is how Webster (unabridged) defines "snob": . . "a person who attaches great importance to wealth, social position, etc., having contempt for and keeping aloof from those whom he considers his inferiors, often admiring, imitating and seeking to associate with those whom he considers his superiors".

And for "smug": . . "narrowly contented with one's accomplishments, beliefs, morality, etc., . . self-satisfied, complacent . ."

After studying both definitions, we are inclined to think that Sam should have stayed with "smug". Neither one is too complimentary.

—o—

During Newspaper Week we probably should be filled with sweetness and light for all members of the craft wherever they may be. On the other hand, it gives us an opportunity to sound off a bit.

For example, not so long ago we took a crack at the City of Milpitas in our editorial columns. We thought Milpitas was 'way out of line in holding up on the sales tax deal, (we still do). So we said so.

Mort Levine, editor of the Milpitas Post, took exception to our remarks (we can't understand why. All we said was that Milpitas had gone high hat and didn't give a hoot about the rest of the county. It was a dirty shame, we added, that one little burg by its attitude could jeopardize the financial security of its sister cities).

—o—

Levine used his entire editorial space to tear down our statements. He would quote a paragraph of ours and then answer it under the heading of "Bunk".

Golly, we think Mort could have picked a better word, but we won't be like Sam and give him any ideas.

—o—

Actually we don't mind these blasts and counter-blasts. It makes for a healthy situation. We don't expect every one to agree with us. We can think of nothing more dull. We have often through the years engaged in verbal fisticuffs with fellow-newspapermen. But, after the smoke from the type had cleared, we have been always in a position to bend an elbow with our adversaries.

Just another reason why newspaper people like their chosen field.

—o—

In order to carry this dissertation another step and then end it on a more or less happy but conceited note, we must also point out that The Campbell Press got into the recent successful Saratoga incorporation fight as a more or less innocent bystander. But we were in it nevertheless.

—o—

We call this instance "The Case of the Dangling Headline". The anti-cityhood people in Saratoga lifted heads from past issues of The Campbell Press (we allowed 'em to use our files) to "prove" in a brochure that cityhood had been unsuccessful in Campbell.

We resented their allegations and replied with an editorial stating the reasons why we favored home rule in Campbell.

The pro-incorporationists then quoted our editorial in a big ad in a San Jose newspaper under the heading "Campbell Clobbers Colonel . . Buechner's Brochure Blasted".

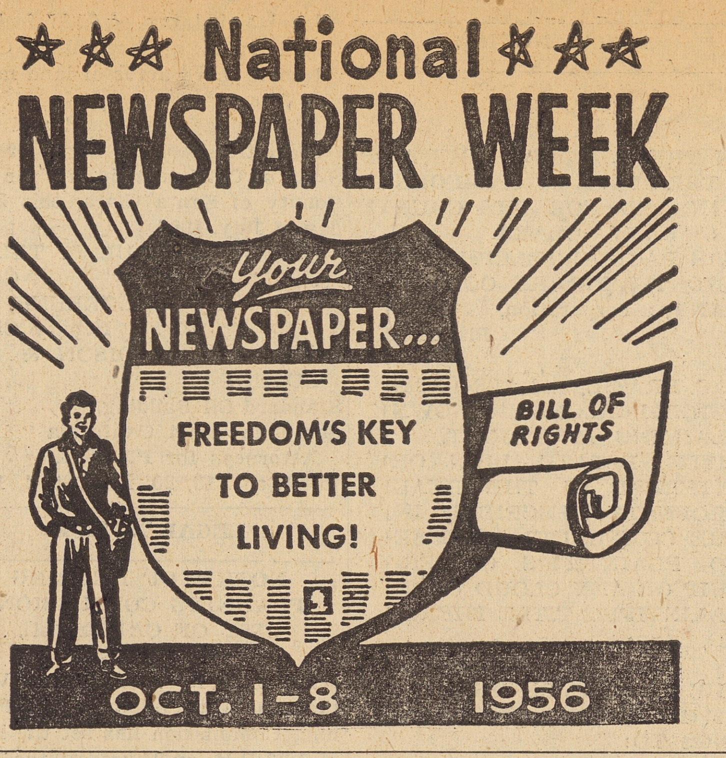
The pro-incorporation people won by a small vote. We will always feel sorta glad that our editorial won over our "dangling headlines" in the final showdown.

—o—

We admit that we have let our typewriter run away with us this week but feel that Newspaper Week gave us that prerogative.

We hope you haven't minded too much.

As you might have guessed, we like our profession.



College Names Local Student to Deacons Post

Earl Liesner of Campbell was installed recently as a member of the board of deacons of the Pacific Lutheran College Student Congregation, the college announced recently. Earl is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Liesener of 41A S. San Jose-Los Gatos Road.

The Congregation is served by an ordained and called minister, but the students have their own officers and run the program in the same way as a regular local church.

Bay Area Gets New Air Pollution Head

Benjamin Linsky, newly-appointed control officer for the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, assumed his duties last Monday, District Board Chairman Francis Dunn, Jr. announced last week.

Linsky resigned as head of the Detroit Smoke Abatement Bureau to accept the $15,000 a year post.

The control district was established by the 1955 legislature to set up measures aimed at controlling the air pollution (smog) problem in the Bay Area. The district will make detailed studies of atmospheric pollution and take steps to control its sources.

Latin Americans For '3' Get Leader

Herbert J. Martin, San Jose advertising and public relations man, has been named chairman of Proposition 3 activities for the Latin-Amerncan residents of Santa Clara County, according to George H. Burchill of San Jose, regional chairman for the state construction bond issue.

Proposition 3 is a $200 million bond issue designed to pay almost one-half of major statewide school expansion planned for the next five years. San Jose State College is slated to receive $29 million for expansion.

According to Martin, "Latin-American voters have a close tie with San Jose State in the Mexican-American Scholarship Foundation of Santa Clara County. The fund was established in 1949 and presented this year scholarships of $200 each to four outstanding high school graduates now attending State."

Bright new idea from P. G. & E...

Redecorate your living room with light!

The trick is balanced lighting: Flood your living room with soft, diffused light — enough light to cheer up gloomy corners, brighten colors, bring out the rich textures of lovely fabrics. Balanced lighting helps you look your loveliest, too!

Three steps to balanced lighting:

1. Count your lamps—have you enough? It takes 5 lamps to light the average living room (250 square feet). A single lamp lights just 50 square feet.

2. Check bulb sizes. Table lamps should have one or more bulbs totalling 150 watts; floor lamps should have bulbs totalling 300 watts.

3. Now comes the fun. Move lamps around till soft, diffused light fills room evenly . . . without harsh glare or shadows. Then sit back and enjoy it!

FREE! 30-page booklet gives full home lighting story! Free booklet contains 22 tested lighting recipes for better, brighter living in all the rooms of your home. Write, phone or drop by your nearest P. G. and E. office for "See your home in a new light."

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF CAMPBELL, IMPOSING A CITY SALES AND USE TAX: PROVIDING FOR THE PERFORMANCE BY THE STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION OF ALL FUNCTIONS INCIDENT TO THE ADMINISTRATION, OPERATION AND COLLECTION OF THE SALES AND USE TAX HEREBY IMPOSED: SUSPENDING THE PROVISIONS OF ORDINANCE NO. 112 DURING SUCH TIME AS THIS ORDINANCE IS OPERATIVE: AND PROVIDING PENALTIES FOR VIOLATIONS THEREOF, BEING PART OF ARTICLE X OF THE CAMPBELL MUNICIPAL CODE ENTITLED REVENUE AND TAXATION.

The City Council of the City of Campbell does ordain as follows:

Section 20:00 SHORT TITLE. This ordinance shall be known as the Uniform Local Sales and Use Tax Ordinance of the City of Campbell.

Section 20:01 PURPOSE. The City Council of the City of Campbell hereby declares that this ordinance is adopted to achieve the following, among other, purposes and directs that the provisions hereof be interpreted in order to accomplish these purposes;

(a) To adopt a sales and use tax ordinance which complies with the requirements and limitations contained in Part 1.5 of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code of the State of California;

(b) To adopt a sales and use tax ordinance which incorporates provisions identical to those of the Sales and Use Tax Law of the State of California insofar as those provisions are not inconsistent with the requirements and limitations contained in Part 1.5 of Division 2 of the said Revenue and Taxation Code;

(c) To adopt a sales and use tax ordinance which imposes a ninety-one per cent of one percent (91%) tax and provides a measure therefor that can be administered and collected by the State Board of Equalization in a manner that adapts itself as fully as practical to, and requires the least possible deviation from, the existing statutory and administrative procedures followed by the State Board of Equalization in administering and collecting the California State Sales and Use Taxes.

(d) To adopt a sales and use tax ordinance which can be administered in a manner that will, to the degree possible consistent with the provisions of part 1.5 of Division 2 of the said Revenue and Taxation Code, minimize the cost of collecting city sales and use taxes and at the same time minimize the burden of record keeping upon the persons subject to taxation under the provisions of this ordinance;

(e) To adopt a sales and use tax ordinance which can be administered in a manner that will exclude the receipts of particular sales from the measure of the sales tax imposed by this City which have been included in the measure of the sales tax imposed by any other city and county, county other than the county in which this city is located, or city in this State, and avoid imposing a use tax on the storage, use or other consumption of tangible personal property in this City when the gross receipts from the sale of, or the use of, that property has been subject to a sales or use tax by any other city and county, county other than the county in which this city is located, or city in this State, pursuant to a sales and use tax ordinance enacted under the provisions of Part 1.5 of Division 2 of the said Revenue and Taxation Code.

Section 20:07 EXISTING SALES AND USE TAX ORDINANCE SUSPENDED. At the time this ordinance goes into operation, the provisions of Ordinance No. 112 (existing city sales and use tax ordinance) shall be suspended and shall not again be of any force or effect until and unless for any reason the State Board of Equalization ceases to perform the functions incident to the administration and operation of the sales and use tax hereby imposed; provided, however, that if for any reason it is determined that the City of Campbell is without power to adopt this ordinance, or that the State Board of Equalization is without power to perform the functions incident to the administration and operation of the taxes imposed by this ordinance, the provision of Ordinance No. 112 (existing city sales and use tax ordinance) shall not be deemed to have been suspended, but shall be deemed to have been in full force and effect at the rate of one percent (1%) continuously from and after October 1, 1956. Upon the ceasing of the State Board of Equalization to perform the functions incident to the administration and operation of the taxes imposed by this ordinance, the provisions of Ordinance No. 112 (existing city sales and use tax ordinance) shall again be in full force and effect at the rate of one percent (1%).Nothing in this ordinance shall be construed as relieving any person of the obligation to pay to the City of Campbell any sales or use tax accrued and owing by reason of the provisions of Ordinance No. 112 in force and effect prior to and including September 30, 1956.

Section 20:09 SEVERABILITY. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, phrase or portion of this oridnance, including but not limited to any exemption, is for any reason held to be invalid or unconstitutional by the decision of any court of competent jurisdiction, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance. The Council of the City of Campbell hereby declares that it would have adopted this ordinance and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, phrase or portion thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, phrases or portions be declared invalid or unconstitutional.

Section 20:10. EFFECTIVE DATE. This ordinance is an emergency ordinance affecting, and for the immediate preservation of, the public peace, health, safety, comfort, convenience and general welfare and the same shall therefore become effective immediately upon the passage and adoption thereof. The facts constituting its urgency are as follows:

The County of Santa Clara has adopted a Uniform County Sales and Use Tax Ordinance. The City of Campbell must act immediately to adopt this ordinance in order to avoid double taxation of all retail transactions within this city, to prevent lack of uniformity, the duplication of reporting and administration of State and local sales and use taxes and to enable the City of Campbell to contract with the State Board of Equalization for performance by the Board of all of the functions incident to the administration or operation of city sales and use taxes before October 1, 1956.

County Taxpayers Group Endorses Proposition 3

The Santa Clara County Taxpayers' Association has endorsed the $200 million state construction bond issue (Proposition No. 3) to be voted on in the November 6 general election, according to Cedric A. Fegtly of San Jose, association president.

California's enormous population growth means an increasing need for expanding state facilities in the fields of higher education, mental hygiene, and corrections, areas which are covered by the bond issue, Fegtly said.

Association directors took special note of the fact that nearly 10 per cent of state construction proposed for the next five years will be in Santa Clara County, Fegtly pointed out. In all, the state plans $448 million worth of building, and projects in Santa Clara County alone account for almost $44 million, according to the approved plan.

Proposition No. 3 will provide $200 million in bonds, enough for almost one-half of proposed construction.

The plan includes $29 million for San Jose State College, $12 million for Agnews State Hospital, $241,000 for Lick Observatory, and over a million dollars for a new state office building in San Jose.

Taxpayers' Association officials pointed out that the bond method of financing as proposed in Proposition No. 3 is in line with the group's policy eliminating heavy "pay as you go" outlays during period of rapid economic and population growth.

"This creates a more even distribution of the tax load on the average citizen," they explained, adding that their study showed no new or increased taxes will be necessary to retire the bond issue proposed in Proposition No. 3.

Campbell Girl Reports on Visit To Ancient German Town of Trier

VIRGINIA GRATTAN
. . . Foreign Correspondent

Editor's note: The Campbell Press has been fortunate in having its own "foreign correspondent". Virginia Grattan, former Campbell High and San Jose State student, has been in Germany since August, 1955. From time to time she has sent The Press interesting accounts of her visits to points of interest. In the following report she describes a visit to Trier, Germany, an ancient little town by the tip of Luxembourg.

WEEKEND IN TRIER

By Virginia Grattan

Trier, Germany is a charming, ancient, little town by the tip of Luxembourg where the Saar and the Mosel rivers meet. Origin of the city goes back to prehistoric times, but it wasn't until 15 B. C. that Trier became a town proper under Caesar Augustus. It is these remnants of the Roman occupation, said to be the finest remains of classical antiquity north of the Alps, which give Trier its particular significance.

The city is a religious center and also, oddly enough, the birth place of Karl Marx, polititcal philosopher and socialist. Although Trier was greatly destroyed during the war, the Roman ruins and the many important churches still remain.

Four Hour Drive

Trier is a four hour ride by car from Frankfurt. I drove up Saturday afternoon by way of Wiesbaden and Mainz, crossing the Rhein. It was a sunny afternoon, and the ride was very pleasant through the German countryside, which is green and very pretty in any part of the country.

My entrance into Trier was more spectacular than I had expected. Just as I drove into the middle of town, on the main street this busy Saturday afternoon—my car stopped dead. And nothing I could do would start it. The policeman who was directing traffic came over and motioned me on, speaking in German and then French. I cowardly "hid behind the language barrier" and leaning out the window spoke in my brightest English, "It won't start." The policeman seeing now that I was both American and a woman driver, threw up his hands in despair and walked away.

Finally, my car did start and I hobbled on to a garage where the repairman cleaned the carburetor and set the machine to running properly again—all for one mark. (23c)

After this I found a hotel, bought some guide books, and "boned-up" for the next day's sightseeing. After dinner I walked down to the Dom (the cathedral). It was raining by this time, and I got thoroughly soaked.

Dom is Big

The Dom is a huge, massive, Romanesque structure, the earliest part of which dates from the 11th century. The present Dom stands on the site of a Christian church built during the time of Constantine. Next to the Dom is the Liebfrauen church, constructed between 1235 and 1260. The graceful Gothic lines of this church are in marked contrast to the heavy Romanesque Dom. Oddly enough the two churches are joined by a small passageway, thus uniting two distinct and different styles of architecture.

The next morning I got an early start on my tour of Trier's Roman ruins, starting off with the Porta Nigra, the most outstanding landmark of the city. This great, black, stone gate stands at least four stories high right in the middle of town, and is reputed to be the best-preserved classical gate in existence today. The gate was part of the Roman fortifications, and connected the city walls on either side of it. It was constructed about the fourth century when Trier was a center of trade and military supply.

A short ways out of the city stands the ruins of the Imperial Thermae (Roman baths) and the amphitheater. The tall, many-arched Thermae--bare to the stones of its skeleton—recalls to mind the Baths of Caracalla in Rome. Though not as splendid as those in Rome, the ruins here are remarkable, considering they were built in a conquered land. The baths were heated by numerous stoves in the basement. Hollow tiles carried the warm air from the stoves, heating the walls and floors of the bath. Here was radiant heating in the fourth century.

Roman Amphitheater

Against the slope of the hill, near the Baths, is the amphitheater. It is tenth largest of the existing Roman amphitheaters. Since it is built against the hills, the amphitheater in Trier is not as dramatic as its counterparts in Rome and elsewhere whose arcaded outer walls rise up from the level ground. As in other colosseums, gladiators fought here, and Christians and Germanic prisoners were thrown to wild beasts.

Across town spanning the Mosel river, is the last and most perfect of the Roman structures—the Romerbrucke (Roman bridge). This plain stone bridge appears to be in as fine a condition as when it was built in the third century. It is in constant use today as is the lower bridge, built by Napoleon about 150 years ago.

The overlapping of history is a thing one is constantly aware of in Europe. In Trier by merely across town, one encounters the architectural achievements of well over one thousand years. There is the Roman bridge built in the 3rd century, the Dom of Romanesque style begun in the 11th century, the Liebfrauen in Gothic style built during the 13th century, St. Paulin's church in Baroque style of the 18th century, and residential dwellings in the 20th cenutry. It still amazes me to see side by side, structures built centuries apart.

St. Paulin's Church

In the afternoon I visited St. Paulin's church. This is constructed in the richly cluttered and ornate style of the Baroque. The total effect, however, is overwhelming to the eye. The high ceiling of the building seems to float away in a swirl of painted smoke and clouds in the midst of which appears the crucifixion. The walls are encrusted with gilded scrolls and cherubs, and between the arches hang heavy, ornate tapestries. It is an overly rich style which takes time to learn to appreciate. St. Paulin's is a splendid example of the height of Baroque architecture.

An interesting sidelight on St. Paulin's concerns its predecessor ——a Romanesque church. In 1674 when Trier was under French rule, the French town commander, who had an eye for the spectacular, took a visiting ambassador out to the Romanesque church, and blew it up. An early example of Franco-German "friendly relations".

Later in the afternoon I left Trier and drove down the Mosel valley on my way home. The road along the river winds in and out along every bend in the river, but it is very picturesque. The Mosel valley is world famous for its wines. On either side of the river, rows of vineyards fill the valley. As on the Rhine river, the banks of the Mosel are dotted with tiny villages, and hill tops with ancient, crumbling castles. It is very nostalgic and lovely to drive the Mosel on a fall afternoon.

Home Sunday evening. Back to work Monday morning.

Outdoor Ad Firms Express Concern Over Tract Signs

Northern California Council of Outdoor Advertising in a recent letter to the Santa Clara County Planning Commission urged enforcement of zoning laws in regulating the mushrooming of subdivision signs. The Council is an industry organization of outdoor advertising plant owners in the northern 50 counties of the state.

The advertising companies cited the regulations of the California Outdoor Advertising Act which requires state permits for signs in the unincorporated sections of the County. Copies of these permits are mailed to the County so local officials can determine if the signs conform with zoning restrictions. The planning commission was also requested to enforce county legislation restricting signs to commercial and business districts.

Realizing the need for signs directing the public to new subdivisions, the outdoor advertising firms suggested a study of special zoning legislation so tract developers could erect directional signs only on a temporary basis. Several counties, including Orange County, have already adopted such ordinances to assist subdivision builders. The suggested legislation would limit size, copy, number of signs, and time period of display with penalties for violations.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

Reminders

1. Here is a list of good bedding plants for September planting: Pansies, Violas, Baby Primroses, Stocks, Snapdragons, and Calendulas.

2. A regular spray program will insure a more pest free garden. This is a good time for a fall clean-up spray.

3. Plant now in the vegetable garden: Onion Sets, Garden Peas, Cabbage, Cauliflower, Brussel Sprouts, Carrots, Beets and Turnips.

4. All types of container grown ornamental shrubbery can be transplanted now.

5. Divide and transplant crowded perennial plants.

Ranunculus and Anemones

A flower enjoyed through the centuries as one of the loveliest harbingers of spring is the Anemone. It is, in fact, the lily-of-the-field mentioned in the Bible as being more beautifully arrayed than Solomon in all his glory—a statement attesting to its beauty as well as age.

In all but the warm areas of the state, the Anemone and its handsome relative, the Ranunculus, should be planted within the next few weeks if their beauty is to awaken your garden this coming spring.

Both the Anemone and Ranunculus are hardy bulb flowers. In mild winter areas, plant them in light, loamy soil. Before planting, however, soak Anemone bulbs in water for one hour, and Ranunculus for two or three hours. In cold winter areas, wait until early spring before setting out your bulbs. Ranunculus bulbs are set an inch deep, claws downward and Anemone, three inches deep.

There are many species of the Anemone or Windflower, as it is also called. The Anemone coronaria is very familiar, with poppy-like flowers in combinations of red, blue and white in many varieties. The coronaria should have sun while the Italian Anemone, apennina, with daisy-shaped flowers of sky-blue prefers the shade. Another Anemone type for early spring is the Pasque Flower (A. Pulsatilla). For early summer, the Snowdrop Anemone (A. Sylvestris) offers its white cupped flowers in shady nooks.

Anemones are effective when planted in rock gardens, borders, pots or in massed effect with the Ranunculus.

Though it resembles the meadow Buttercup, the Ranunculus is really related to a large family that includes the Anemone, Delphinium and Clematis. The name Ranunculus is of Latin deriviation and means "little frog" referring of course to the many species found in the damp meadows where frogs are also found. The Ranunculus asiaticus is commonly called Persian or Turban Ranunculus. Planted now, it will give beautiful spring blooms of cream, white, red yellow, orange, pink and rose in double or ruffled forms.

Care for the Ranunculus just as you do for annuals, advises the California Association of Nurserymen. Plant in sun (or half-shade in warm climates) and cover young plants with wire netting as birds will injure the new foliage. This flower can be planted in a mixed border or in containers. It is also a fine flower for cutting.

Calendula or Pot Marigold

Long a favorite for brightening winter gardens, the Calendula or Pot Marigold was grown in old English gardens in the time of Shakespeare as an herb and as a remedy for sore teeth as well as a flower. In fact Shakespeare himself referred to the Pot Marigold, calling it the "Winking Mary-bud" in his play "Cymbeline".

Modern gardeners, too, enjoy seeing the bright orange and yellows of the Pot Marigold plus the recently improved strains, blooming merrily in winter and spring gardens. This cool weather annual is one of the hardiest and easiest plants to grow; it will do best in rich soil with plenty of water and full sun, but will grow in poorer soil, too. The only real cultural requirement is to remove old flowers, says the California Association of Nurserymen. Plant the Pot Marigold in boxes, pots or in the flower bed in solid masses of single colors. For bouquets, it is long-lasting.

Standard Pot Marigolds bloom in yellow and orange but shades of these colors have been developed as well as larger sized blossoms with petal variations.

Among the varieties available are Campfire (Sensation), a brilliant orange with scarlet sheen; Chrysantha and Sunshine, rich yellow; Orange Fantasy, orange with mahogany centers.

There are also new Pot Marigolds available in the Pacific Beauty strain. They are: Apricot Beauty, Cream Beauty, Lemon Beauty and Persimmon. The names, of course, imply the color. These new strains have large blossoms with sturdy stems.

Other examples of improved blossom forms are Orange Shaggy, loosely formed with irregularly arranged petals and Radio, deep yellow, quilled petals.

Shrubs for Fall Color

New Autumn interest can be introduced into your garden and yard by planting shrubs that offer fall color interest. The California Association of Nurserymen suggests that these shrubs be planted to herald the change of season and to take over the color show from the summer-blooming varieties.

A large and favorite family of shrubs, the Barberry (Berberis) includes several members noted for their fall colors. The Wintergreen Barberry (B. Julianae) which is evergreen or semi-deciduous, is among the hardiest of this family. Its dense, upright growth takes on a reddish hue in the fall. From bright green, the leaves of the Japanese barberry (B. Thunbergii) turns to yellow, orange and red, and after they fall, bead-like scarlet berries appear in a very showy manner close to the branches.

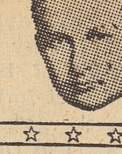
The Western Redbud (Cercis occidentalis) is a native Western tree-shrub that grows from eight to twenty feet. It performs beautifully all year round and when fall comes the entire plant turns light yellow or red. Another Western native, the Toyon, or the California Holly (Heteromeles arbutifolia) grows as a bushy shrub six to ten feet tall or a multple-trunked tree 15 to 25 feet. In the fall bright red berries highlight its glossy, dark green leaves.

Fruit on the Hollyleaf Cherry (Prunus ilicifolia) adds autumn color to this evergreen Western native. The Hollyleaf Cherry's foliage is light green when new, dark green later; creamy-white flowers precede the "cherry fruit" which turn red in September.

California has 1/15th of the areas now comprising the national park system.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser



REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
TENTH DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

One type of mail rather consistently received by every Congressman and Senator is requests for aid and assistance in obtaining employment with the government. The great majority of these letters are based on a misconception of what a member of congress can do to aid such placement. It is worthwhile, I think, to try to clear up some of these misunderstandings.

First of all, the overwhelming majority of government jobs are under some form of civil service. This means that rather than hiring John Doe on the spot and putting him to work at once at a salary mutually agreed upon, the department head must request his personnel through a personnel agency of the government which operates under rules and regulations laid down by the Congress as well as by the executive branch. Unless an applicant can satisfy all the demands made by such regulations, he can't be hired, no matter what his cousin, the senator, may have to say on the subject.

There are two major criteria for employment. One is the availability of the job. The other is the qualification of the applicant. Only when both conditions are fullfilled can John Doe get on the payroll.

The Civil Service Commission, which regulates most government employment except such careers as the foreign service which has its own system, makes periodic announcements as to job vacancies. These may be found or requested in any U. S. post office. If an applicant feels qualified, he may then take a competitive examination. If he scores well, he may get on an eligibility list from which appointments are eventually made.

Lots of jobs require security clearance. In that case, even the most qualified person in the country has to undergo a thorough background check by security agencies. Unless he successfully passes this, many jobs will be unavailable to him. Naturally, the clearance for a sensitive job in a laboratory of the Atomic Energy Commission requires a stricter check than a minor job on the fringes of the security area.

In none of these fields can members of the legislative branch exert influence. With the idea in mind that merit should outweigh patronage considerations, congressional pressure can hurt an applicant's chances as much as help them. I am always glad to determine the status of someone's application, but ordinarily it is neither possible nor desirable to try to force the issue in any way.

California produces one-third of the Nation's canned fruits and vegetables.
